TERMS OF SERVICE

Service contract between user and eRaff.it

Last update: 20th October 2018

This text describes the terms of the service provided by the applications of the company eRaff.it (from this moment on "we", "the company", "the developer").

This document refers to the "My Password", "My Cards" and "My Parking" application and its variants, "Pro", "Lite" or "Premium" (from now on "applications", "the application").

By accessing or using the applications the user accepts these terms. If you do not accept the following conditions, all or in part, please do not use the applications.

Description:

The service manages user information and related data saved in a secure and reliable way, using the latest technologies available in the sector, saving and encrypting data on the device and on Apple's cloud (now "iCloud").

Subscriptions:

For free apps, some functions may only be available through the purchase of periodic subscriptions (monthly, semi-annual or annual).

The cost of subscriptions will be charged through the iTunes account in advance of use and will be renewed automatically when it expires.

At any time the company can change the costs of the subscription, notifying the user beforehand.

At the company's discretion, there may be a free trial period (for example 1 month or 3 months) that can be activated by registering for a subscription.

At the end of this period the app will automatically renew the subscription by charging the related costs.

The subscription and the free trial can be deactivated up to 24 hours before the renewal.

The company will provide a notice in appropriate time to allow you to modify, improve or suspend the service.

More:

The user using the application does not hold the rights, the use free or paid and related only to use, the company reserves the right to modify, suspend or interrupt the service or any feature at any time without notice.

All rights to the service remain with the company eRaff.it
